

Feature:

The software is installed on the PC and accessed through the LAN, which can realize operations such as music library music file update, system device firmware remote upgrade, system data backup and restoration.