

Feature:

- * The administrator can add human detection equipment, which can be assigned to a location or conference room. And then the human detection equipment can be linked with the central control to automatically turn on/off the relevant scene modes of the conference room. If the human detection equipment detects that there is someone in the conference room, it will link the central control to turn on/off the related equipment in the conference room;
- * The administrator can view the detection status records of all human detection equipment.