

Description

The cloud conference management platform supports the connection with the recording system, realizes the real-time or scheduled recording and broadcasting function of the specified device, and supports editing video folders, playing videos online, and downloading video files.

Feature

- * Support adding/editing/viewing recording equipment in the equipment management module, including name, IP address, equipment status, recording studio and other information;
- * Support recording management: search/add/delete recording, start/end recording. Support creating a recording in the recording management module. After selecting the conference room and recording equipment and setting the time, the device will perform recording and broadcasting operations according to the settings; the generated recording video files can be viewed in the recording video module;
- * Support editing video folders, playing videos online, and downloading video files.