

Description

It is an audio encoder software based on Windows system. It is used with the speech transcription server for audio signal encoding.

Feature

- * Support the acquisition function of the conference server: collect audio signals through the digital conference system, encode the audio signals and upload them to the speech transcription server.
- * Support the sound card acquisition function: collect analog audio through the PC sound card, encode the audio signal and upload it to the speech transcription server.